About Me

As I transition into the field of web development, I am actively seeking opportunities to apply my skills and contribute to a dynamic team as an intern. My goal is to learn and enhance my technical abilities while collaborating on projects that create high-quality content. I am passionate about my work, committed to excellence, and eager to be part of a forward-thinking organization.

Education

- Bachelor of Software Engineering
Cidade de São Paulo University 2023 - 2027
The university is recognized for its high-quality academic standard and the course is designed to equip students with the skills needed to build high-quality software for various sectors of society
- Web development Professional Course
MasterD Courses - Spain 2024 - 2025
This course provides a comprehensive path to becoming a modern web developer. It covers everything from foundational knowledge to practical skills for a full-stack web developer, programming languages such as HTML, PHP, JavaScript, and Python.
